Premiere Performances

By Sharon Obeck

Two new features are being introduced on Home Box Office this month, and in a way they're what we really are all about—a greater variety of programming, “family choice” programming as Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, so aptly termed it in Federal Communications Commission hearings.

Of course, motion pictures and sports continue to be the meat and potatoes of the HBO service, and March is another exciting month for both. But in addition you'll notice, beginning Sunday, March 3, a group of special programs entitled ARTS, CRAFTS AND HOBBIES and another we call TRAVEL/OUTDOORS.

The first of these is just what it sounds like. One segment “Artist at Work”, was produced by the University of Michigan with artist Guy Palazolla giving instruction for the beginning or amateur painter. Another, “Taking Better Pictures”, should interest every photographic enthusiast. The third portion, “Colonial Crafts”, is a fascinating study of how artisans as the silversmith, gunsmith, cooper and hammerman (blacksmith) plied their trades in Colonial Williamsburg.

TRAVEL/OUTDOORS is an extension of the “Joy of Skiing” series that was so popular on HBO in February. There will be informative as well as entertaining visits to several possible vacation spots, Acadia National Park, Colonial Williamsburg, Everglades National Park and Grand Tetons National Park.

In the months ahead, both these services will be expanded to cover other topics of recreational, informational and instructional interest. We'd like very much to hear our viewers' comments on this series and suggestions of subjects you'd like us to include.

All of these features add a new dimension to HBO. And they are additions, not replacements for other programs. New segments will premiere each Sunday as part of HBO's “Gasless Sunday” programming, and they'll be repeated during the week for viewers' convenience.

Now a few words about other programming:

Movies—Six current popular films are being introduced on HBO for the first time (see reviews in adjoining columns) plus our usual SNEAK PREVIEW of an April attraction. Six other films are being repeated for those who didn't see them before or want to see them again: “1776”, our monthly ENCORE PERFORMANCE program; “The Valachi Papers”, which had part of its run in February; “Butterflies Are Free”, with Edward Albert and Goldie Hawne; “The Thief Who Came to Dinner”, starring Ryan O'Neal and Jacqueline Bisset; John Wayne and Ann-Margret in “The Train Robbers”, and Robert Redford in “Jeremiah Johnson”. A big movie month.

Sports—The New York Knickerbockers and Rangers are running out their regular seasons in the National Basketball Association and National Hockey League, getting ready for playoffs in April. In addition, there's college basketball, including part of the National Invitation Tourna-

GODSPELL

(1973)

Rock musical version of Gospel according to Saint Matthew. Film abounds in youthful joy and vigor that made it worldwide stage success. Victor Garber and David Haskell head high-spirited cast. Score by Stephen Schwartz features familiar "Day by Day" and "Beautiful City", and Richard G. Heimann's cinematography adds extra dimension. Rated G.

March 1, 4, 7, 8, 9, 11, 29 • 103 minutes

OKLAHOMA CRUDE

(1973)

A big, brawling and timely adventure film enhanced by performances of George C. Scott, Faye Dunaway, John Mills and Jack Palance. In pre-World War I oil field setting, Miss Dunaway portrays female wildcatter supported by Scott, a drifter, in battle to save her well from big company represented by Palance. Rated PG.

March 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 9, 11, 29 • 112 minutes

"The Valachi Papers"

(1972)

Revelations of Mafia "soldier" Joe Valachi in powerful gangland expose. Charles Bronson stars as informant who gave Senate Committee Investigating Organized Crime unique insight into "Cosa Nostra." Rated R.

March 2, 3, 7, 8 • 125 minutes

Class of '44

(1972)

Sequel to phenomenally popular Summer of '42 carries on story of Hermie (Gary Grimes) and Oscy (Jerry Hauser), who graduate from high school and go to college in anxious days of World War II. Film reaches climax with sudden death of Hermie's father, forcing him to face maturity and responsibilities. Rated R.

March 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 24, 28 • 95 minutes

RATINGS

For information of its subscribers, Home Box Office indicates Motion Picture Association of America ratings on all films.

"SLEUTH"

(1972)

Laurence Olivier and Michael Caine score twin triumphs in intricate mystery that captivated both stage and film audiences. Olivier portrays wealthy English detective fiction writer bent on subtle entrapment of his wife's young lover (Caine). Playwright Anthony Shaffer and director Joseph L. Mankiewicz contrive ending as witty and exciting as it is surprising. Rated PG.

March 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 26, 30, 31 • 135 minutes

SCARIECROW

(1973)

Gene Hackman and Al Pacino, applauded for portrayals of offbeat lawmen in "The French Connection" and "Serpico", respectively, team up this time as pair of shabby drifters traveling eastward across a beautifully photographed USA. Their world is scruffy, often violent but a vivid setting for skills of two splendid actors. Rated R.

March 10, 12, 14, 15, 16, 24, 28 • 115 minutes

The Heartbreak Kid

(1972)

Much acclaimed comedy, directed by Elaine May from Neil Simon script, is story of self-absorbed young man (Charles Grodin) who interrupts his honeymoon to pursue new dream girl (Cybill Shepherd). Jeannie Berlin, who is Miss May's daughter, was cited as Best Supporting Actress by N. Y. Film Critics for performance as abandoned bride, and Eddie Albert won Academy Award as father of lovely but spoiled Miss Shepherd. Rated PG.

March 18, 23, 25, 27, 30, 31 • 105 minutes

JORGE'S A COMER

By Floyd Patterson

It is always exciting to see a young fighter get started on his way upward to challenge for a championship. Since last July, our Home Box Office boxing fans have been watching an exciting young native of Argentina, Jorge Ahumada, develop into a top light heavyweight contender.

Jorge first made the scene on the Monday Night Fights from Felt Forum when he knocked out Hal (TNT) Carroll, a competent fighter, in the eighth round. That was followed by two more kayos against Ray Anderson and Billy Wagner and a ten-round decision over Jose Gonzalez.

By then, this 28-year-old former Pan-American Games champion was beginning to attract plenty of attention. In December, he was rewarded with a semi-final bout on the Jerry Quarry-Earnie Shavers card in the main Madison Square Garden arena. Again in front of the HBO cameras, he stopped ringwise Andy Kendall in the third round.

Then in January, he had his biggest victory of all, another third-round knockout over ranking light heavy Bobby Cassidy. That was the semi-final to Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier, and next day the New York Post reported that the Garden would try to match him with champion Bob Foster.

That could be quite a showdown. Ahumada has 36 wins, five defeats and one draw now with 20 knockouts, although he's really more a boxer than a slugger. Jorge is managed by Gil Clancy, one of the smartest around, and that can't hurt, either.

Home Box Office fans will be watching that situation with plenty of interest, and so will I. It's great to see boxing being revived by our Monday Night Fights. There's no question that Felt Forum is one of the most important proving grounds for young prospects today.

Jorge Ahumada is just the first of many we expect to see getting their big breaks on the Monday Night Fights.

(Floyd Patterson, only fighter to win the world heavyweight championship twice, teams with veteran announcer Don Dunphy as ringside host of Home Box Office's Monday Night Fights.)

ment. The Women's National Indoor Tennis semi-finals will be presented, as well as boxing, both professional and Golden Gloves, wrestling and the Roller Derby.

'Specially for Kids—For the children, there are two specials, "For Boys Only is for Girls, Too", a comic, action-packed story from Czechoslovakia, and "Who's Got the Horse?" about the friendship of a young boy and a dilapidated old horse. This month, the kids will have their own SNEAK PREVIEW, too. It's called "Dogs to the Rescue".

Sharon Obeck greets Home Box Office viewers nightly with program comments and descriptions. In the daytime, she can be seen, too, on the HBO program previews.
